Introduction

What you will find in this report

This report contains the results of the 360-degree feedback collected from a combination of yourself, management, and peers. These results are presented in a variety of formats to help you identify your strengths, areas for development, and areas where your ratings may diverge from those of the individuals providing you feedback. Please recognize the time and effort your respondents put into providing you with this feedback, be open to their opinions, and be willing to use their feedback as a starting point for your learning and development.

Goals of the 360 Degree Feedback

1. Increased mindfulness
2. Greater awareness of the leadership and management competencies the company is seeking to develop
3. Greater clarity about strengths to build on and areas to improve
4. Improved goal-setting for personal and professional development
5. More frequent and open communication between yourself and others about what is working well and what needs to be improved
6. Increased comfort with seeking and receiving feedback
7. Increased comfort with giving feedback

Receiving Feedback

Hearing from others how they perceive you is challenging for everyone, especially if their perceptions are different from your own. Remember that their feedback is as much about them as about you. At the same time, others' perceptions of you form the real basis of your relationships. It is a precious gift to learn from others how they perceive you, for with that information you can begin to improve your relationships and teamwork on a truly solid foundation. Give your emotional responses to the feedback time to evolve and settle down, then begin the process of making sure you understand what others are saying.

What is Feedforward and What to Do with Your Feedforward

Feedforward is the reverse exercise of feedback. It's the process of replacing positive or negative feedback with future-oriented solutions. In simple terms, it means focusing on the future instead of the past. During the upcoming Leadership sessions, you will have an extended opportunity to work with your coach to interpret your feedback and to begin to prioritize improvements you want to make.

At the end of the sessions, you will have dedicated time to factor these priorities into other session learnings to set a few focused, high-leverage goals and begin to think about how you will pursue those goals.

After the sessions, you should work with your coach to work on that pursuit.

You are encouraged to communicate further with your respondents, both to clarify the meaning of the feedback they have given you and to solicit their support on your self-development journey. Even when people have not self-identified, you can conduct general conversations in which you share what you've learned and seek their further feedforward.

Flexibility

Defintion:

Flexibility is the ability to think a variety of thoughts, change the ways of doing things, solving unique problems, meeting the needs of a variety of people, managing unpredictable events/circumstances, and adapting to new environments or the needs of different situations. Flexibility also includes recovering quickly from setbacks and maintaining a high level of productivity despite obstacles. Flexibility includes being responsive to the needs of others, to accommodate others, and provide customized training to facilitate learning.

Why it is important:

Flexibility allows individuals and organizations to adapt to changing circumstances and challenges with ease. This adaptability enhances problem-solving, strategic thinking and innovation, leading to more effective and efficient operations. Flexibility is being resilient in the response to setbacks, enabling a quicker recovery and maintaining productivity. Flexibility also accommodates the diverse needs and perspectives of others to create a more inclusive and collaborative work environment. Flexibility helps drive success and sustainability in today's dynamic business environment.
