Introduction

What you will find in this report

This report contains the results of the 360-degree feedback collected from a combination of yourself, management, and peers. These results are presented in a variety of formats to help you identify your strengths, areas for development, and areas where your ratings may diverge from those of the individuals providing you feedback. Please recognize the time and effort your respondents put into providing you with this feedback, be open to their opinions, and be willing to use their feedback as a starting point for your learning and development.

Goals of the 360 Degree Feedback

1. Increased mindfulness
2. Greater awareness of the leadership and management competencies the company is seeking to develop
3. Greater clarity about strengths to build on and areas to improve
4. Improved goal-setting for personal and professional development
5. More frequent and open communication between yourself and others about what is working well and what needs to be improved
6. Increased comfort with seeking and receiving feedback
7. Increased comfort with giving feedback

Receiving Feedback

Hearing from others how they perceive you is challenging for everyone, especially if their perceptions are different from your own. Remember that their feedback is as much about them as about you. At the same time, others' perceptions of you form the real basis of your relationships. It is a precious gift to learn from others how they perceive you, for with that information you can begin to improve your relationships and teamwork on a truly solid foundation. Give your emotional responses to the feedback time to evolve and settle down, then begin the process of making sure you understand what others are saying.

What is Feedforward and What to Do with Your Feedforward

Feedforward is the reverse exercise of feedback. It's the process of replacing positive or negative feedback with future-oriented solutions. In simple terms, it means focusing on the future instead of the past. During the upcoming Leadership sessions, you will have an extended opportunity to work with your coach to interpret your feedback and to begin to prioritize improvements you want to make.

At the end of the sessions, you will have dedicated time to factor these priorities into other session learnings to set a few focused, high-leverage goals and begin to think about how you will pursue those goals.

After the sessions, you should work with your coach to work on that pursuit.

You are encouraged to communicate further with your respondents, both to clarify the meaning of the feedback they have given you and to solicit their support on your self-development journey. Even when people have not self-identified, you can conduct general conversations in which you share what you've learned and seek their further feedforward.

Summary

The questionnaire items used in this feedback process asked respondents to rate 5 competencies of leadership and management. Summary scores for each item were calculated by averaging the scores of all your respondents to that item. Your scores for the items in each competency are shown in the bar graph below, with the highest-scored competencies at the top. Your competencies that received the lowest scores appear at the bottom of the graph.

Scores by Competency

Conflict Management
Establishing Focus/Direction
Integrity
Vision
Attitude

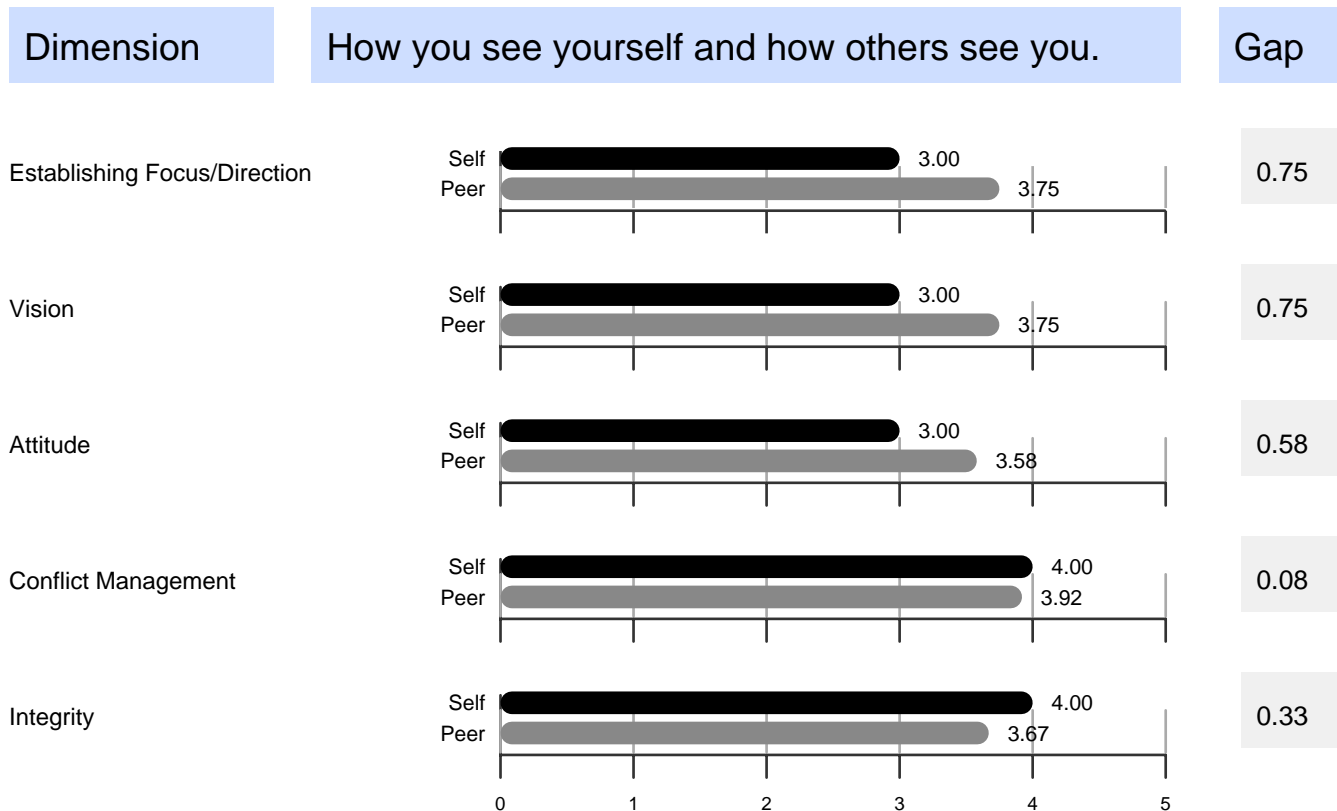

Relationship	Headcount
Self	1
Supervisor	1
Peers	5
Direct Reports	6

The results in this report are based on responses collected from individuals in different roles. This table shows the number of responses from individuals in different roles.

These different roles provide different perspectives on your behaviors, competencies, and attributes. And, of course, the perspectives of individuals in each role may be unique.

Gap Analysis

The following table graphically displays the "Gap," or difference between your average rating on each competency (labeled "Self") and the average score of all other respondents (labeled "Others") who provided you with feedback. This can help you identify blind spots, or areas where you were rated more favorably by other respondents than by yourself. The Gaps for these competencies are colored in shades of green. Conversely, the graph can also help you identify your opportunities for improvement, or areas where you rated yourself higher than others did. The Gaps for these dimensions are colored in shades of red. The darker the shade of green or red, the larger the Gap. Finally, if a dimension's Gap is not shaded with a specific color, it indicates an area of agreement between yourself and others.

- I feel _____ consistently meets/exceeds in all of the Leadership Effective areas listed above, and I feel he excels in the areas related to encouragement, identifying employees' strengths, and shared decision making.
- _____ clearly communicates expectations and verifies information to ensure shared understanding. A great example was the recent coaching session at our visibility wall. This dialogue was a great opportunity to get some ideas and feedback on processes and metrics that would be meaningful to track in my departments.
- He is a joy to work for.
- As a leader, I can clearly see that _____ is open to growth as he is willing to have difficult conversations with the intent of strengthening the team. I believe the areas that need improvement will develop in time, as he gains leadership experience and mentoring.
- He looks for ways to improve processes, involves his team in the process improvements, and shares with others what his team has accomplished.
- I appreciate _____ being open to suggestions, and available when concerns brought to him.

Conflict Management

Defintion:

Conflict management is the process of effectively resolving disputes by addressing underlying issues, preventing escalation, and ensuring clear communication. It involves finding common ground, fostering compromise, and actively listening to all parties. Successful conflict managers facilitate collaboration, recognize diverse perspectives, and remain open to change. They are responsive, persuasive, analytical, strategic, and inquisitive, ensuring a balanced and constructive approach to conflict resolution.

Why it is important:

Effective conflict management is crucial in business management because it helps maintain a productive and harmonious work environment. By resolving disputes promptly and fairly, managers can prevent minor issues from escalating into major problems, which can disrupt operations and lower morale. Additionally, good conflict management fosters better communication, collaboration, and understanding among team members, leading to more innovative solutions and improved overall performance. Managers who excel in this area can also build stronger relationships and trust within their teams, which is essential for long-term success.

Statements for Level:

I promote a culture that values diverse perspectives.; I achieve mutually acceptable solutions through collaborative efforts by both parties.; I encourage both sides to make compromises to resolve the conflict.; I attempt to accommodate vital interests of those who felt alienated or suffered injustice.; I promote employee engagement to reduce tensions and negativity, creating an environment where conflicts are easily managed.

- I feel he has really engaged with the staff and with the quality work staff performs. He has taken the time to learn more about this department, support, encourage, as well as challenge us to be better.
- _____ conducts himself with a high level of integrity and respects honesty and integrity in the people he works with.
- He is able to see the bigger picture and helps others to look past the present and how we can change the future.
- I am very thankful for all the opportunities he has provided me and I have grown in my development under his guidance. A real asset to the organization.
- He often becomes overly involved with projects and tries to change things when the projects and groups are running smoothly.
- I do see _____ improving in the following areas: following through on process improvement projects and embracing them instead of becoming defensive, open to coaching and mentorship, serving as a role model for techincal staff, collaborating more within the entire RO team and regularly attending required meetings and following through on his assignments.

Vision

Defintion:

Vision is the ability to create a unifying strategic path for employees. Vision can be aspirational and inspirational influencing employees toward a common goal. A vision may be implemented by a manager or delegated to the employees in the department/team for implementation. Vision must be communicated with clarity and consistency. A manager with vision may be prescient and able to more effectively solve problems.

Why it is important:

Vision provides a clear direction and purpose for the organization. A compelling vision can inspire and motivate employees. Vision, as the ability to perceive issues clearly, helps leaders make strategic decisions. A shared vision fosters alignment and cohesion within the organization. A strong vision helps organizations stay resilient and adaptable in the face of challenges. Leaders who articulate a clear vision build trust and credibility with their teams.

Statements for Level:

You facilitate employees' adoption of the organization vision.; I recognize issues and formulate solutions.; I effectively communicate the vision to employees.; You analyze data and industry patterns to forecast opportunities and challenges.; You create a workplace culture that reflects the organizational vision.
